

F. H. Girls Campaign For Home Safety

Members of the Orland Park Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America will distribute fifteen home safety posters next week in Orland Park, Tinley Park, Palos Park and Mokena.

These posters will call attention to the great hazard to safe living of accidental falls around the house. They are prepared by the Illinois Farm and Home Safety committee and put all over the state in an effort to reduce the deaths and injuries to farm and town families.

The F. H. A. girls will call on businessmen, homemakers and others in the above communities to cooperate with them in getting these safety posters up where people can see them. "We will want to place the posters where they can be read in barbershops, schools, grocery windows, banks and every other place where people meet in town."

Falls, with a total of more than 16,000 deaths, accounted for about half of the accidental death total in homes last year, says Floyd Morris, chairman of the Safety Committee. These fatalities occur more often among old people because they are more susceptible to complications from falling which lead to death.

In addition to the 33,000 people last year who lost their lives in home accidents, Morris went on, another 5,000,000 persons were injured. Total cost in time lost and hospital bills was more than $60 million dollars.

Of the hospitalized home accident causes resulting from mechanical causes, the highest percentage 18 percent, were caused by disorder. Of the cases resulting from personal causes, the highest number, 24 percent, were caused by poor judgment.

Be sure that stairs are well lighted, Morris suggested. About one-fourth of the falls happen on stairs or steps inside and outside the house. See that your stairs and steps have good, strong handrails and that stair carpeting is secure. Keep toys, pails, mops, etc. off the steps.

Walk, don't run, around the house, Morris says. Many home accidents are caused by spilled grease and water on the floor, toys and other obstacles under foot, and slippery throw rugs. Morris says to wipe up grease and water right after you spill it. Have a play area for children and their toys and try to keep them in it, and anchor small rugs with tacks or nonslip pads.

Remember—a fall can be the shortest distance between home and the hospital.

Couple Marries In Frankfort Church

Miss Norma Paus, of Elitzen, Minnesota, and Albert Fruechte, of New Albion, Iowa, were united in marriage Tuesday, January 23, in the St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church, of Frankfort. The double ring service was read by the Rev. Raymond Bizer, of Gilman. Mr. Fruechte is a brother of Mrs. Erich Bizer, whose husband is the pastor of St. Peter's church. The couple were attended by Miss Ruth Fruechte and the Rev. Robert Bizer, both of Chicago. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served for the bride party at Alvera's in Chicago Heights. The groom is employed in a bank at New Albion and the couple will make their home there when they return from a wedding trip to Florida.

Under The Cross Of Malta

The campaign to get 100% paid up membership by March 29th is coming along in good order. At the present we have 65% paid up. If you are one of the 35% that have not paid your 1951 dues, Comrade Steinhagen will be at your service any time. Let's keep the ball rolling.

Don't forget the dance Saturday February 10th. The band has been engaged, and many people from this community have heard them play last fall at Owen's barn dance.

Our next meeting on Feb. 8 will be a business meeting and the second meeting of the month will be a social meeting, and you are invited to bring your friends. This plan will be followed in the future if it meets with favor.

If you or some friend has a ping pong table put away somewhere we would like to take it off your hands. Contact Commander Peterson or Comrade Steinhagen.—Eino Saarela, publicity.

A MARINE TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM CHUNGJIN TRAP

The following letter which was published in The Daily Standard, newspaper at Excelsior Springs, Mo., January 2, while Editor Semmler spent a week in that city, seems good for republishing. It was written by Forrest D. O'Dell, who has been in Korea since August with the first Marine division, and who was trapped in Chungjin reservoir area. He wrote to his sister at Excelsior Springs.

In his letter dated December 16 he said, "There were 24,000 of us to start with and only 8,000 of us now. I don't have to tell you where the rest are. It really is a sad sight. The guys look like they can't take another step, and most of them can't."

"When we all were coming down out of the hills to get together, I started looking for guys I knew, but I have never found them, so they won't be back either. Those guys I knew like a book after being with them five or six years."

"We are the people over here who feel it, not the people back in the States, and what has got us rallied up about that they think we are supposed to be a police action."

"We are just resting up now, no work. We hope we are getting ready to go to the States, but we don't know whether we will get to stay or leave here. It is not nearly as cold here, but it still gets awfully chilly at night. But still, it is heaven to what we have had. How is everything there? Fine, I hope."

"It will probably be Christmas by the time you get this. Hope you will have a good one. If we stay here, I think we will have a good meal. I can't send anything, but you know how it is."

"I wish you and mom wouldn't take this war too hard. I have been writing when I can and when I have a chance. I don't mean to be bitter but you don't have any idea how this grows on a person. Well so much for all this. We are getting along fine here in this rest camp."

Many Attend
Reception in Joliet
For 'Mr. Speaker'

Last Saturday afternoon friends of Warren Wood, state representative from Will and DuPage counties, and who was elected speaker of the Illinois House, feted him at a large reception and dinner.

The reception, held in the Elks ballroom in Joliet in the afternoon, was attended by 2500 persons from all over the district, who are proud to have their representative chosen "Mr. Speaker."

In the receiving line with Mr. Wood were C. H. Peterson, chairman of the Will County Republican Central committee, arranging the reception; Mrs. R. J. Smith, GOP county chairwoman; Mrs. Arthur E. Kelly, president of the Will county Republican Women's club; Mrs. Warren L. Wood; Mrs. Harvey Wood of Joliet, his mother, and his sister Mrs. Frances Irving and other Republican leaders.

Mr. Wood shook hands for three hours and received the happy congratulations of the large number who came to greet him. It was a happy occasion for everyone, as it should be, for one of the local territory's sons had reached the highest position in the State House of Representatives.

Those who know Mr. Wood realize he is a man capable of the position and one to whom they can go any time giving their views or inquiring his. Indeed, Mr. Wood expressed his desire to have those of his district contact him at any time, by phone, letter, or in person concerning any step in the legislature, good or otherwise.

Mr. Wood stated "Keep your hand on the shoulder of the official you elect to keep him steering on the course he wants to steer."

The Joliet Association of Commerce sponsored a dinner in the Louis Joliet hotel Saturday evening honoring Mr. Wood which was attended by over 200 persons.

A good number from Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox attended the reception in the afternoon. Mrs. Herbert Folkers of Frankfort was among those who poured at the refreshment tables.

Orland School Board
Considering Add'n

At a meeting of the Orland high school advisory committee, headed by Mr. Harry Ahnelt, held January 24, a number of sketches showing possible additions to the Orland school were studied.

The sketches were submitted by Jim T. Pomeroy, local architect, at the request of the high school board. They showed how the present school and the gym could be converted to both high school and grade school purposes by additions and room changes. The cost would be much less than building a complete new building.

The advisory committee consists of representatives of each of the Orland township grade schools. No definite action was taken at this meeting.

A prayer for our Soldiers

BY MAJOR GENERAL ROY T. PARKER
Chief of Chaplains, United States Army

Almighty God, Creator and Preserver of all mankind, we command Thee to keep those serving in our Army. Though they are in the midst of dangers, do Thou send Thy guardian angels for their protection. Walk beside them as they go through the valley of the shadow of death.

Knowing that all good things come from Thee, grant them courage and loyalty, through a firm faith in freedom's cause, in the present conflict. When sacrifices are called for, let them be made in the knowledge that Thou art the rewarder of Thy servants. Enable them to live valiantly and serve nobly, in the full realization that no man liveth unto himself. Grant them clear minds, strong bodies, resolute wills, and pure hearts free from hatred and bitterness, renewing them each and every day with strength, like strong men of old, who against enthroned wrong stood with confidence and courage.

Awaken in them a lively faith that will keep them close to Thee. Enable them to rest their cause upon Thy Word, that though the foe be strong, yet knowing the cause as they battle for the right, they can never fail. Fill their hearts with the assurance that with Thee nothing is impossible and that all things work together for good to them that love Thee.

If it be Thy will that injuries be sustained, let them experience the touch of Thy healing hand and do Thou bless the means and the ministries employed for the restoration of their health.

In these difficult times, when the forces of evil are running rampant and many hopes seem about to be crushed, fill their hearts with an abiding sense of Thy reality and the certainty of Thy continual presence. Enable them to look to Thee when loneliness and longing overtake them; fulfill their yearnings by granting them Thine own companionship and fellowship. Enable them to realize the full meaning of Thy promise, "Lo, I am with you always."

Thou who art the Protector and Helper as well as the Giver of victory, grant unto them every good gift of body and soul and unite us with them in faith and love unceasing. Amen.

OVER HEATED
STOVES CAUSE
2 MOKENA FIRES

The Mokena Fire department answered two calls Saturday afternoon to put out fires in Woodland Acres west of Mokena. As Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mancke were passing the small summer home of Angelo Luciano they noticed a fire in the one room 12 by 12 building. They called for help.

Mr. Luciano, who lives in Blue Island, put up this small house to use when he comes out to work in his garden and had been out to build a fire to warm up the building. He had just left on the train for home when the fire was noticed. It was caused by an overheated coal stove according to reports and was damaged to the extent of $200.

Shortly after this a fire started in the home of William Zika nearby, and also was said to have been caused by an overheated coal stove. This home is situated on 114th avenue. The damage to this building, before the fire could be extinguished, was estimated at about $50.00.

Murphy-Campbell
Nuptials Jan. 27

St. Dennis church, Lockport, was the scene of a lovely winter wedding Saturday afternoon, January 27 at three o'clock, when Miss Rita Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy of Homer, became the bride of Harley Campbell son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Campbell of Joliet. Rita's attendants were her sister, Mrs. William Kasper, Jr., as matron of honor, and his bride, Miss Carol Campbell as bridesmaid. Thomas Gilmore served as best man while Kenny Adams, Russell Carnes, and William Jr. were the ushers. Miss Maureen Canavea presided at the organ and also sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The wedding gown was of ivory slipper satin with a sheer bodice, a short train and finger-tip veil held in place with a crown of seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of red roses.

Mrs. Kasper wore a yellow gown and Miss Campbell wore a pink gown fashioned like the bride's. Both had halos of carnations matching their dresses. They carried colonial bouquets. The two mothers each wore navy dresses, black accessories and white corsages.

At six o'clock a supper was served in the Murphy home to the bride party and the immediate families.

The reception to more than two hundred friends was held in the hall, Lockport, in the evening. A buffet luncheon was served at a long decorated table centered by a beautiful four-tiered wedding cake which was the gift of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy of Mokena.

When the newlyweds left for a week's wedding trip she was wearing a gray suit and pink corsage. After their return, they will live in a new trailer home in Fairmont.

Report Of Their Study Of 3 Townships
In New Lenox School Friday Night*LAST RITES FOR LEON TONN, AT MOKENA TUES.

Mr. Leon Tonn, 63, life long resident of Mokena, passed away in Hines Veteran's hospital Saturday evening January 27 at 8:30 o'clock. He had been ill several months.

Mr. Tonn was born in Mokena July 22, 1887, the son of the late Ferdinand and Edmunda Tonn. He took teacher's training and later taught school at Spencer, near New Lenox. Then he went to Chicago where he was employed by an insurance company. During World War I his company was ready to sail for Europe when the Armistice was signed.

Mr. Tonn was always of a happy disposition and everyone who knew him was a friend. He cared for his aged parents until their death. At the time of his death he was employed by the A. J. Davis Insurance company in Chicago. He was a member of the Reifeldt-Meyer American Legion Post 474 at Matteson.

He took ill in November and when his condition became serious was taken to Silver Cross hospital where he had several blood transfusions. Returning from the hospital he spent a week with his sister, Mrs. L. D. Gillette in Marley and returned to his home in Mokena. Soon his condition became more serious and he was removed to the veteran's hospital at Hines where everything possible was done to make him comfortable. January 20 he underwent surgery.

Surviving are his sister Marie, three nieces, Mrs. Edward Sproat and Mrs. Russell Lauffer, Marley, and Mrs. Walter Spies, Mokena; six nephews, Harley Gillett and Edward Schenkel, Mokena, Robert and Burton Gillette, New Lenox and Dwight and Wilson of California.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. William Riemann, pastor of St. John Evangelical church at Mokena, in the Sonntag funeral home in Joliet, Tuesday afternoon. Burial was on the family lot in St. John's cemetery, with Reifeldt-Meyer Legion Post of Matteson and the William Martin VFW post of Mokena in charge.

Residents to Build Their Own Roads

Plans were made at the Parkside Home Owners meeting last Thursday evening to improve the roads in Parkside.

The roads, which have been in a deplorable condition, are to be of black top as recommended by the State of Illinois for residential areas, and are to be built on a cash basis.

In order to create a cash basis, the members of this organization would like to collect $75 from each home owner in Parkside from now until spring, so that work can be begun on the roads by early spring.

The men who will do this collecting will carry proper identification so that everyone will know they are authorized to do the soliciting.

Mr. Lou Farrell, treasurer of the Parkside Home Owners' association has been bonded for $12,000.

The advantages of having new roads in Parkside include: mail delivery, street drainage, increase of property value, no dust, easier walking and no more broken auto springs.

A motion was passed at the meeting that all members who are delinquent in their dues may be brought up as paid in full to the first of the year, by paying 75 cents to the treasurer, Lou Farrell, 17020 Elm Lane Drive.

Brother and Sister Suffer Accidents

Paul Ebeling, son of Mrs. Robert Ebeling, Orland Park, suffered a fractured ankle when he was accidentally hurt while playing basketball a week ago. His sister, Sarah Lynn, was hurt Wednesday noon, January 24, when she was playing on the slide on the school playground. She fell from the slide knocking herself unconscious and was taken to Silver Cross hospital. She was found to be suffering a head injury and some internal injuries but is now back home and reported well enough improved to return to school.

In Mrs. Ebeling's situation it seems the old saying "It never rains but what it pours" seems true because her mother has been seriously ill following an operation and her aunt is planning on entering the hospital for possible surgery.

Dr. Reavis, and a story concerning him and one of the schools which he has helped to build, were pictured on nearly a full page in the neighborhood section of the Sunday Chicago Tribune. Sixteen Basic Principles

(Editor's Note: Maurice R. Franks is President of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Editor of its official publication Partners)
By Maurice R. Franks

The Masonic Chronicle of September 16, 1950 named sixteen basic principles of the original American political philosophy, which until recently have been accepted as the essence of "The American Way" of life. The political and economic rights which protect the dignity and freedom of the individual, listed by The Chronicle, are as follows:

1. Right to worship God in one's own way.
2. Right to free speech and free press.
3. Right to assemble.
4. Right to petition grievances.
5. Right to privacy in our homes.
6. Right to habeas corpus--no excessive bail.
7. Right to trial by jury--innocent till proved guilty.
8. Right to move about freely at home and abroad.
9. Right to own property.
10. Right to bargain with our employees.
11. Right to work in callings and localities of our choice.
12. Right to go into business, compete, make a profit.
13. Right to bargain for goods and services in a free market.
14. Right to contract about our affairs.
15. Right to the service of government as a protector and referee.
16. Right to freedom from 'arbitrary' government regulation and control.

These principles should be read not once but several times, and pondered upon. They are not just theories, untried and unproven. They are not 'isms' that reflect the views of certain classes or minorities. They cannot be twisted or changed to suit the caprice of those who would foist socialism upon us.

They are, instead, the principles which our Founding Fathers, in their great wisdom, wrote into that glorious Constitution of ours, by which the freedom of every man is guaranteed. They have been tested by time: they have been "weighed in the balance and not found wanting"; they enabled this nation to attain an economic, social and political stature that is the envy of the entire world.

There are some among us who "look down their noses" at our Constitution. They claim it is out of date, a relic of the 'horse-and-buggy' and "candle" days. They say that times have changed since Benjamin Franklin and his colleagues drew up that immortal document; that science and invention have so limited space and so nearly wiped out time that the old rules, the old traditions, the old principles no longer apply.

These poor, misguided souls advocate "one world", and "world government"; they would have us renounce our nationality and, abandoning our rights and liberties, merge ourselves politically, and socially with all the other nations of the world.

They are glib. To the unthinking individual their arguments have a ring of plausibility. But the truth is, the rest of the world, the best of it along with the worst of it, never has caught up with the social, political and industrial progress the United States has made. This is not due to our being smarter than the peoples of other lands. Our amazing progress stems directly from the political philosophy upon which this nation was founded--a philosophy which declared that each individual in it should be, must be, is free.

Please read those sixteen basic principles again and again. When a socialist friend "bends your ear" with his cock-eyed plans for reshaping mankind, figure just which of the sixteen you are willing to give up. You'll find there is not a single one you are willing to give up. You'll find there is not a single one you would relinquish. Tell him to go peddle his wares to Joe and his pals at the Kremlin.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WITH OUR OWN HANDS

THERE IS AN EXTRA ZEST, A GAIN IN PURPOSEFUL LIVING, WE AMERICANS ALL SHARE IN DOING THINGS FOR OURSELVES. "HOME-BUILT" ALWAYS GIVES A GREATER SENSE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT AND PRIDE THAN EVER COMES FROM "BOUGHTEN THINGS."

WHAT IS TRUE OF THE THINGS WE USE AROUND THE HOME IS ALSO TRUE OF THE LARGER PATTERN OF OUR LIVING, OF GETTING AHEAD THROUGH OUR OWN INITIATIVE—OF BUILDING SECURITY FOR OUR FAMILY THROUGH OUR OWN THRIFT—AND OF RAISING OUR CHILDREN IN THE WAYS AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF OUR DEMOCRACY.

Protect Paint Brushes

A PAINT brush that is in frequent use should be kept in linseed oil. To simplify this preservation measure, a hole may be bored in the handle of the brush and a rod inserted so the brush can be suspended in the can of oil. A new paint brush should be soaked in linseed oil for two or three days before using. This increases flexibility and permits paint to spread much more easily. Inferior work often results from attempting to use one size brush for all painting jobs. A small, medium-sized and large brush should be kept on hand. Small painting tools, such as putty knives and stirring sticks, should be kept conveniently at hand. This can be done by cutting a two-inch band of an old inner tube and placing it around the paint can. Place the tools under the band. A coat of melted paraffin will prevent unused paint from drying in the can.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damillot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damillot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damillot's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL, I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

The Moon

By Roberts Mann, Supt. Conservation, Cook County Forest Preserve District

When there is a full moon, and unless it is cloudy, this circled work, journeys and festivities ac-orb" will rise in the eastern sky, a little after sunset, like a broad round golden mirror. That's what it really is: a sort of mirror that reflects the light of the sun back to us. People used to plan their work, journeys and festivities ac-ording to the sign of the moon so that they could use its light. In every kitchen there was an almanac which showed the days of the week and month, the times of sunrise, sunset, moonrise and moonset, the signs of the moon, the eclipses and the signs of the zodiac. Certain crops were planted only "in the light of the moon"—others, like potatoes and turnips, only in the "dark of the moon." Some superstitious people would not have their hair cut, butcher meat, trim vines or shingle a house except when the moon was "right."

After "full moon," it rises later and later each evening—an average of about 51 minutes later each day until, at the end of a week, it doesn't rise until about midnight. Then, partly turned away from the sun, half shaded and half bright, it is said to be in its "last quarter." After another week the moon is "dark," rising a little before sunrise with only a feebly-shining slender crescent along the one edge. A day or two later, it is seen in the west just after sunset and is said to be a "new moon." A week later it is overhead at sunset, is half lighted, and is in the "first quarter." The time between one new moon and the next averages 29½ days, varying somewhat according to the season and the latitude.

The moon's path around the earth is an ellipse, so that its distance from us varies—averaging about 240,000 miles. The sun is over 90 million miles away. Occasionally, as the moon moves directly in front of the sun, its shadow sweeps across a rather narrow strip somewhere on the earth's surface, producing an eclipse of the sun. Within that shadow it becomes so dark that chickens go to roost and we turn the street lights on. Likewise, the earth's shadow occasionally falls on the face of a full moon to produce an eclipse but, because the earth's diameter is four times greater, that eclipse is sometimes visible all over the world.

The moon's path around the earth is not quite in line with the plane of the earth's path around the sun. Because of this tilt, the "full" and "dark" moons are usually above or below the line between the earth and the sun. Otherwise, every new moon would eclipse the sun and every full moon would be eclipsed by the earth. The plane of the moon's orbit swings back and forth, which explains why in some years it ranges farther north and farther south in the sky than in other years. These and other irregularities combine to make it a most difficult task to chart and predict the phases and eclipses of our celestial playmate.

Recently, radar signals have been sent to the moon and back, and people are dreaming of visits there in space ships. Beware! It has no air, no clouds, no water, no life. The sun shines for about 15 days, followed by 15 days of darkness. During the long moon day, the stars would shine in an inky black sky and the barren surface would be hotter than boiling water. At night the temperature would plunge to about 460° F. degrees below zero. A 200-lb. athlete would weigh only 33 pounds and could easily jump over a house.

No one has ever seen the other side of the moon. On our side it has very steep mountain ranges rising over 30,000 feet, and is pocked with thousands of circular craters, some of which are 100 miles across. The broad dark patches that the ancients thought were seas, and which suggest the "man in the moon" to imaginative people are probably flat deserts covered with lava or volcanic ash.

It is responsible for our tides and most June weddings.

A National Inventory—Every successful business man takes stock once a year to determine how he stands. Facing a dangerous world situation "Uncle Sam Incorporated," the biggest business on earth, should take stock to see how we stand at the beginning of a very critical year in our nation's history.

Comparing our resources today with our resources at the beginning of World War I and World War II we find our industrial capacity to produce much greater, our population much greater, and our national health higher than ever before in our history.

Comparing our liabilities today with our liabilities at the beginning of World Wars I and II, we find that at the beginning of World War I our national debt was insignificant, our price level was stable, and the cost of that war was only $50 billion. In World War II the price level was twice as high as in World War I, largely because Roosevelt went off the gold standard, the dollar was devalued to 59 cents, and the New Deal instituted a deficit spending program. World War II cost us $350 billion—seven times the cost of World War I.

Today we face World War III. For twenty years we have been living in a fool's paradise. We have been living in luxury largely on the basis of writing IOUs that our children must pay off someday. This has resulted in a price structure that is now twice as high as ten years ago; and the war machines and war supplies that we must buy today will cost us four or five times what we paid in World War II. Destroyers that cost $3 million in 1940 now cost $50 million, and warplanes that cost $250,000 five years ago now cost $2,500,000. That means World War

III will cost us at least three times as much as World War II. Can we survive another World War—economically, financially, or physically? (We have said nothing in this inventory about the atom bomb and its destructive potentialities.)

Today's Vital Question—Senator Taft claims President Truman has no Constitutional right to send our troops into Korea or Europe without the consent of Congress. President Truman claims he has the authority to send our troops anywhere. However, the vital question concerning our boys in Korea today is, "Was it right for President Truman to order them into Korea in the first place?"

At the very moment President Truman was ordering our boys into Korea, General MacArthur was saying, "Anyone who engages the United States Army on the mainland of Asia should have his reason examined." MacArthur was expressing the considered views of our military leaders, views reached after long study and debate. Was it wise or right for President Truman to act contrary to the advice of his military experts?

Congressional Free Mail vs. Bureaucratic Free Mail—The franking privilege, free mail for Congressmen, is provided by a very old law designed to encourage a Congressman to communicate with his people, postage free, about what goes on in Washington. The Buchanan Committee made quite a fuss about how this franking privilege has been abused by certain Congressmen. What about it?

The use of franked mail is the Congressman's most important, oftentimes his only means of direct communication with his people. His first duty is to keep his people informed. He is their representative in Washington, their source of information and their check on the administration.

Postmaster General Donaldson testified that Congressional free mail for both House and Senate combined amounts to $1,200,000 a year. He also testified that Bureaucratic free mail sent out by the various executive departments, bureaus, and commissions amounts to $75,000,000 per year. If we add to that the $100,000,000 paid out for salaries and expenses of the 45,000 reporters, writers, professional propagandists, clerks, and stenographers engaged to prepare and send out this flood of bureaucratic free mail, you have a cost of $175,000,000 to the taxpayers for Bureaucratic free mail as against $1,200,000 for Congressional free mail. This means the administration sends out to the average Congressional district 150 times as much mail to propagandize the people as the Congressman does. The question is, "What free mail would the taxpayer rather have choked off or reduced, Congressional free mail or Bureaucratic free mail?"

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

Washington, D. C.
December 21, 1950

1. Establish 40 hour week for yardmen with increase of 23 cents effective October 1, 1950, and additional 2 cents effective January 1, 1951.
2. Set aside 40 hour week agreement until January 1, 1952, and establish 6 day work week for yardmen. Effective with the first pay roll period after 30 days from the date of execution of the formal agreement, yardmen required by the carrier to work on the 7th day to be paid overtime rates except engineers who shall receive straight time rates for the 7th day. This does not create guarantees where they do not now exist. On and after October 1, 1951, three months' notice to be given of desire to go on 40 hour week. Provide for consideration of availability of manpower and 4 cents per hour if and when the 40 hour week actually becomes effective.
3. Settle rules for 40 hour week and 6 day week.
4. Grant yard conductors and brakemen other rules such as daily earnings minimum, car retarder operators and footboard yardmasters as recommended by Emergency Board No. 81.
5. Settle following rules:
Initial Terminal Delay (Conductors and Trainmen)
Interdivisional Runs
Pooling Caboose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Reporting for Duty
More than One Class of Service
Switching Limits
Air Hose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Western Differential and Double Header and Tonnage Limitation (Conductors and Trainmen, all Territories)
6. Road men to receive 5 cents per hour increase effective October 1, 1950 and additional 5 cents per hour increase effective January 1, 1951.
7. Quarterly adjustment of wages on basis of cost of living index (1 point to equal 1¢ per hour. First adjustment April 1, 1951. Base to be 176).

8. Agreement embodying principles applicable to yardmasters to be entered into for benefit of yardmasters.

9. Effective October 1, 1950, the basic hours of dining car stewards shall be reduced from 225 to 205 hours per month; no penalty overtime to accrue until 240 hours have been worked, the hours between 205 and 240 to be paid for at the pro rata rate.

Effective February 1, 1951, overtime at time and one-half shall accrue after 220 hours have been worked. The basic month / salary to be paid for the 205-hour month. Except that four dollars and ten cents ($4.10) shall be added to the present monthly rate effective January 1, 1951.

10. In consideration of above, this agreement to be effective until October 1, 1953, and thereafter until changed or modified under provisions of Railway Labor Act. Moratorium on proposals for changes in wages or rules until October 1, 1953, as follows:

No proposals for changes in rates of pay, rules or working conditions will be initiated or progressed by the employees against any carrier or by any carrier against its employees, parties hereto, within a period of three years from October 1, 1950, except such proposals for changes in rules or working conditions which may have been initiated prior to June 1, 1950. Provided, however, that if as the result of government wage stabilization policy, workers generally have been permitted to receive so-called annual improvement increases, the parties may meet with Doctor Steelman on or after July 1, 1952, to discuss whether or not further wage adjustments for employees covered by this agreement are justified, in addition to increases received under the cost of living formula. At the request of either party for such a meeting Doctor Steelman shall fix the time and place for such meeting. Doctor Steelman and the parties may secure information from the wage stabilization authorities or other government agencies. If the parties are unable to agree at such conferences whether or not further wage adjustments are justified they shall ask the President of the United States to appoint a referee who shall sit with them and consider all pertinent information, and decide promptly whether further wage increases are justified and, if so, what such increases should be, and the effective date thereof. The carrier representatives shall have one vote, the employee representatives shall have one vote and the referee shall have one vote.

11. If the parties cannot agree on details of agreement or rules they shall be submitted to John R. Steelman for final decision.

The usual protections for arbitrators, miscellaneous rates, special allowances, and existing money differentials above existing standard daily rates will be included in the formal agreement.

12. The foregoing will not debar management and committees on individual railroads from mutually agreeing upon changes in rates, rules and working conditions of employees covered by this agreement.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1

'Thy words were found, and I did eat them; and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart.' (Jeremiah 15:16). Read Psalm 1

In the second decade of this country, when there was famine and much distress in Armenia and its capital, Erivan, a girl was sent by her family to a grocer to buy some bread and cheese. To the girl the grocer handed the small slab of cheese, wrapped in a thin paper.

As the members of the family ate, the eyes of the father were attracted to the piece of paper on which were printed words in their own language. He took it and read aloud to the family. All were surprised and delighted. The man immediately ran to the grocer and bought the book from which that sheet had been torn. It was a Bible, though sadly deprived of most of its leaves. Through the Word of God read in the home and believed, the members of that family came into possession of the Christian faith and spirit. They became devout and happy Christians.

In their home they had eaten of the Word of Life.

PRAYER

God, our heavenly Father, give us grace by Thy Holy Spirit, to appreciate the Bible as Thy revealed Word. Help us as a family to nourish ourselves on it more diligently for Thy glory. In the name of our living Christ. Amen.

Sports Festival Square Dance Contests Feb. 7

The curtain goes up on the opening act of the 1951 Illinois Farm Sports Festival in Urbana, Feb. 7. The first festival events of the year will be contests in folk and square dancing to be held that day in the Women's Gym on the University of Illinois campus, according to I. E. Parett, of the Illinois

Agricultural association.

An additional attraction the same day will be a contest for square dance bands. The contests will start at 9 a.m.

These events will be a feature of Illinois Farm and Home week that will be held February 5-8 at the U. of I.

Present entries indicate that 500 people representing 25 Illinois counties will take part in the dancing and band competition. Parett, who is Festival secretary, said, The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization with 178,000 farm families as members.

The dancing contests will be divided into four classes. They are: Rural youth folk dance, Rural youth square dance, open class folk dance and open class square dance.

This makes the second year that these events have been held during Farm and Home week. Formerly, they were held in connection with the main events of the festival. These main events will be held August 23-24 in Urbana this year. Four H square and folk dance competitions will be held then.

Competition and participation points will be given each entry to count toward determining the '51 Sports Festival winner. Will county has won the Festival the last two years.

Miss Janice Beckstrom, U. of I., will serve as chairman of the Rural Youth division. R. O. Lyon, U. of I., will be chairman of the open class dancing.

The Sports Festival is sponsored by the IAA, the U. of I., Farm and Home Bureau, Prairie Farmer WLS, and other cooperating organizations.

One-Dish Meals—Quick and Easy

Prepare a one-dish meal on that day you go to a club meeting or shopping. These meals take little time in preparing, serving and dishwashing. They may also save money by using left-overs or saving food.

Miss Frances Cook, foods and nutrition specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, has these suggestions for one-dish meals:

A mushroom-pork-corn dish takes only 30 minutes of cooking time. To make it, place one can of pork luncheon meat, one sliced onion, one can of whole-kernel corn, and two teaspoons of Worcester-shire sauce into a two-quart sauce pan. Pour over this mixture one 10 1/2 ounce can of condensed mushroom soup and 1/2 cup of water. Sprinkle four tablespoons of coarsely chopped green pepper over the top. Simmer one-half hour.

To complete the meal, Miss Cook suggests a cabbage and carrot salad, and for dessert, fruit, apricots or peaches, with cookies or brownies.

Nut cutlets is a tasty meatless dish that gives left-overs a lift. Combine 1/2 cup mashed cooked peas, one cup mashed cooked carrots, three-fourths cup chopped nuts, three tablespoons minced onion, two cups soft bread crumbs, one tablespoon salt and a dash of pepper.

Shape in the form of thick chops;

roll in crushed corn flakes. Place on a greased baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Serve with a tomato sauce. A wilted spinach salad with diced bacon and a relish tray of celery, carrots and pickles would complement the cutlets. And for dessert bake a cherry upside-down cake while you're baking the cutlets.

Feeder Batters Egg Quality
POULTRY raisers may avoid thin-shelled eggs, even in winter, by making always available to their flocks high-grade oyster shell with a calcium carbonate content of approximately 95 percent. Presence of vitamin D in the ration determines the extent to which a bird can make use of the calcium carbonate in manufacturing egg shell.

Inclusion of a vitamin D concentrate therefore helps improve egg shell texture when flocks are confined to laying houses.

An efficient device for keeping the flock supplied with the shell-making ingredient is a grit and oyster shell feeder, such as illustrated here. Its design is sound from the functional viewpoint, and it can be built in a few hours.

Three short boards, 1 by 6 inches, provide the framing for the feeder. The top, back and front are panels of Masonite 1/2-inch tempered Plywood. The feeder contains two compartments and is designed for attaching to the wall of the laying house. This is an economical device for keeping the necessary grit and source of lime always before the layers.

For a free working drawing showing how to make it, write Farm Service Bureau, Suite 237, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for Plan No. AFB-144.

Power of God

Lesson for February 4, 1951

ONCE UPON a time, miracles were one of the strongest arguments supporting Christianity. In our times, it is quite the reverse; miracles are for many Christians a major embarrassment, and for others a principal reason for not believing what Christians teach. There is no room in one column to debate this question. A very readable recent book on this line by C. S. Lewis, called "Miracles," may help to clear the reader's mind, showing that the common idea that miracles are impossible, is a mistaken idea.

Christ the Power of God
PAUL calls Jesus Christ "the power of God" (I Cor. 1:24). Whether you believe that Jesus could perform miracles or not, whether you find such a belief hard or easy, depends a good deal on what you think of Christ. If you think of him as a main much like yourself, and no more, then you have as hard a time believing that he could work miracles as in believing that you yourself could do so. But if you believe that in some way he was more than simply a man like yourself, but that God was in Christ (as Paul said), that in his mind was the wisdom of God and through him surged the power of God, you will not have much difficulty with the miracles.

But suppose you cannot start with the high faith in Christ as Son of God; at least you can start with historical facts which no one can reasonably doubt. One of these facts is that there lived a person named Jesus of Nazareth. Another fact is that it was believed about him, already in his lifetime, that he could do all sorts of astounding things—cure hopeless cripples, bring people back from the dead, stop a storm in its tracks, drive demons back to hell.

You will have to admit that this Jesus must have been an extraordinary character to have such things believed of him, even if they were not true. Starting from that point, you may be led to look into this man's story further, and—like many others—may come out at last believing in Christ as the divine Lord.

Motive for Miracle
ONE THING the thoughtful reader will see in these miracles told of Jesus: they were not done to show off. Jesus himself did not brag about them, nor call attention to them, nor talk much about them. He saw people in trouble and he came to their help. It was as simple as that. He is not reported to have stopped all the storms in Galilee, but only one; and that one not to save himself nor even to save any one else from death, but to save them from fear.

He sent the demons tumbling into the lake, not to create a wonder-tale nor to show how much stronger he was than demons, but he did it to help a poor wild madman back to sanity. He did not go around to funerals in Palestine bringing all the corpses back to life and cheating the undertakers for three years running. On the contrary, he went to Jairus's house only when asked.

There is a certain modesty about all these miracles; and there is love in each of them. The great difference between miracle-working power in the hands of Jesus and such power in the hands of ordinary men, is suggested in the remarkable tale by H. G. Wells, "The Man Who Could Work Miracles." It is the tale of a man who found to his dismay that his supernatural powers brought only disaster to the world.

The Most Personal Miracle
SOME YEARS ago there was a young man in Austria who had for a long time put up an unsuccessful struggle with himself. To put it shortly, lust had him in its grip. He had about given himself up as a bad job, when he made the acquaintance of two young priests. He asked himself: What do these men have that I do not have? And he discovered the answer: Christ. That was how Baron von Hugel, one of the great minds of our century, became a Christian.

He discovered that Christ, now can work a miracle in a man; and one miracle, experienced in one's own life, can be of more value than a hundred miracles recorded on paper.

Plug-In Light New Auto Idea

A portable spotlight, that plugs into the automobile cigarette lighter (arrow, lower right) and furnishes brilliant illumination, is introduced by Chevrolet in its 1951 accessory line. Demonstrated here by Marjorie Zupner, the chrome-plated light comes with enough wire for use all around the car as a trouble lamp, or as a spotlight from inside the car.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

America enters the second half of the 20th Century. A new Congress will convene. Both events reflect important milestones for American Independent Business.

In the first half of this century great monopolies made their longest strides. It was also the period when legal safeguards for small business such as the Clayton Act and the Robinson-Patman Act became law.

Independent business needs little, if any, additional legislation to prevent liquidation by monopoly.

The problem is adequate enforcement of existing laws. For example, there are adequate laws against larceny. Yet it is easy to imagine the growth of larceny that would ensue if peace officers failed to make arrests, or if there were no funds for peace officers.

The long established Federal Trade Commission is supposed to take action when Federal business laws are violated.

But the Federal Trade Commission has been almost strangled to death by lack of funds. This fact came out the other day at a joint conference between the anti-monopoly Advisory Committee of the House Small Business Committee and the FTC with Chairman James Mead and Commissioners Ayers, Carson, Mason and Springbarn present as well as leaders of organized small business.

Members of the FTC state they would like to do more, but lack the funds. An attempt will be made to get funds.

Railroaders Have Sign Language of Their Own

EVERY little motion has a meaning of its own on the railroad—the wave of an arm by the station agent or a sectionman to the crew of passing train usually means something more than a casual greeting.

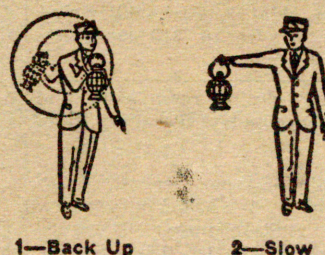

If something were wrong with the train, a hot-box, for instance, the agent or sectionman would signal the train to stop by waving his arm back and forth across his knees at right angles to the track.

The raised-arm signal, known to the railway fraternity as the "High-ball," is one of a number of hand signals which are in daily use on the Canadian National Railways and other North American railroads.

Frequently, the signals are given at a considerable distance from the locomotive and to increase visibility red flags are used. At night, or when day visibility is poor, lanterns spell out orders from brakemen to engineers. Here are some of the signals most commonly used, and what they mean.

When a train is required to take on an extra car, it backs up toward the car until the couplers at the end of the train and on the required car have been joined. To signal the engineer to back the train, the trainman swings his flag or lantern in a circle at half-arm's length as shown in illustration 1.

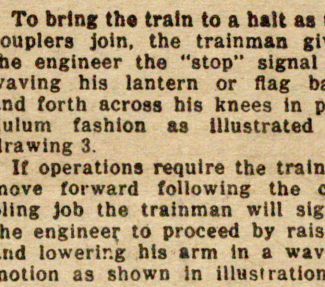

As the end of the train nears the car, the trainman signals the engineer to slow down in order that the couplers may be joined with a minimum of shocks. To give this signal, he holds out his hand with flag or lantern as shown in illustration 2.

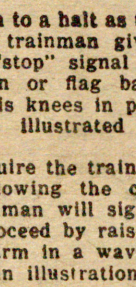

1—Back Up

2—Slow

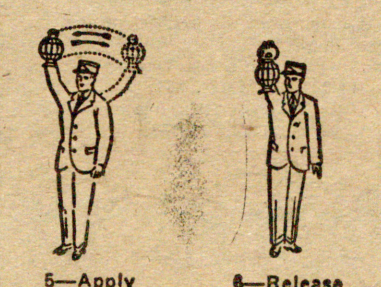

3—Stop

4—Proceed

the brakes along the entire length of the train are inspected. If the man doing the job is at the rear of the train when he begins his inspection, he signals the engineer to apply the air brakes, in manner of figure 5, by waving his hand horizontally above his head. Then he walks the length of the train checking each wheel to see if the brake shoes have a firm grip of the tire in each case.

When he reaches the head end, he signals for the release of the brakes. This he may do verbally or by holding his hand above his head as shown by drawing 6. He then returns down the length of the train to check that the shoes on each wheel have been released. If he begins his inspection from the head end of the train he will give the signals in reverse order.

Hand signals are an essential part of train operations and contribute materially to the safety of the traveler and efficient operation of Canadian National Railways' and other trains.
